CHAIRPERSON'S MESSAGE

Happy Teachers' Day to my dear educators of Amity. On this special day, which honours the birthday of India's greatest scholar and teacher, Dr S. Radhakrishnan, I congratulate each one of you for having chosen to walk the path of imparting knowledge and wisdom. All of you are the strong foundation on which Amity stands tall and proud. This means that an educator possesses seven qualities, namely knowledge, skill, patience, agility, persuasion, awareness and happiness. You, my dear educators, not only possess all these qualities, but you have imparted the same virtues to every student under your care and guidance. Even the Parasmani - that turns stone into gold according to our Vedas does not have the ability to bestow its own powers upon a stone. To me, you are more than the Parasmani itself. You are teachers par excellence, for whom no feat is impossible. I have always been proud of this fact that you have steadfastly nurtured each and every student into becoming not only passionate learners but also excellent human beings. While encouraging their competitive spirit, you have never failed to teach them values like gratitude, respect and patience. Your unwavering determination as educators was especially evident to me last year when the situation became really tough for all of us. Words will never be enough to express my sentiments as I saw each one of you rise to the occasion and display tremendous agility amidst unforeseen changes. Each day brought with it more uncertainty, but your spirit of mentorship never diminished by even a fraction.

This is why I believe that teachers are not only the true agents of change, but also the driving force behind nation-building. Teachers are always conscious of how our present action sets the course for future, and this is why all of you have been able to successfully steer the wheels of transformation and forge a new way of learning and life during these turbulent times. I am blessed that all my educators at Amity are such sincere souls who have passed every agni-pariksha without blinking an eyelid. Your hard work reveals itself constantly through the stellar achievements of our children in every field of life, whether academics, extra-curricular activities or national and international competitions. I could go on about how much I value your contribution, so I would just like to wish all of you a blessed life that is filled with happiness and contentment. You certainly deserve all of it and more. We all are striving constantly to make India a Knowledge Superpower and build a more humane, happy and progressive world, as envisioned by our Founder President Dr. Ashok K. Chauhan.

I also express my heartfelt gratitude to the enduring spirit that many of you have shown while braving personal losses during these challenging times. For those who left us for their heavenly abode, I wish to pay a special tribute as they were and will always be the jewels of Amity family.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

“SWARAJ IS MY BIRTH RIGHT AND I SHALL HAVE IT”

So rightly said by a freedom fighter great, all the freedom fighters expressed their love for India, through their every trait.

Mother India sits upon the throne of spirit of freedom.

It wasn't achieved easily, but then again freedom you should give up on seldom. Salute this flag, in which we store our pride

Ever passing day, every single night.

We can't pay them back, the warriors, the legends
They proved that we wouldn't accept to be threatened

The stubborn thirst for freedom, ignited a bright spark
We made it through those times, we made it through the dark.

Now as we boast about our freedom fight. We found our way from the dark to the light.
We should celebrate our freedom, as our only religion.
And learn to love our country for endless reasons.

RAIN IN THE NIGHT

Rain in the night
Catches my sight
Eases my mind
Makes me feel alight.

Rain in the night
Is my mind's best flight
On my dreams it sets my sight.

Rain in the night
Makes me feel light
So that I can fly like a Kite
Rain in the night.

NATURE

Nature, Nature Everywhere
Whether you go here or there
The birds chirp in the morning
And the crickets at the night
Nature, Nature Everywhere
Whether you go left or right

The calm lakes
And the rough mountains
The cock wakes when
The sun rises
Nature, Nature Everywhere
Whether you go here or there

MY UTOPIA

Sitting by the crackling fire I write,
Sipping on a cup of tea;
While shedding those sorrowful tears of mine.
Looking back on those memories.

When I craved for the affection of those,
Whose simply I could not receive.
When I used to think that this world was bright,
Full of rainbows ,happiness and light.

The light that helped the distraught,
The hope for the ones who were lost,
A haven for the ones who were misguided and for the ones who were wronged,
A shelter of benevolence ,
Was what I perceived of this world.

Now I see how wrong I was,
As fate has been unkind to me and to the ones who surround me ,
So has every person I met ,
This world is not what I perceived,
Oh! how I wish I could forever live in that childish yet flawless utopia of mine.

Now I pay for the sins of mine,
As I feel those shackles of life,
Tighten their hold on me ,
Leaving me breathless,
Until I stop the struggle.

So for all the lost souls I write,
For all the living dead who desire to cross the bridge,
For all the drunks who try to drown in their misery ,
By gulping down each bottle of rum.

I conclude this poem with one last thought of mine,
That had I not imagined my world was so full of glee ,
My heart would not have been hurt so hideously.

“CYBER SECURITY

Lockdown has left us with laptops and phones,
Life is showing is different tones.
Instagram, Facebook that's what everyone wants,
We think that our parents always taunt.

But wait they are right,
This World Wide Web is an enormous plight.
Creating social media accounts is what we all await,
Keep in mind trouble is what you might create.
Hackers are waiting around,
They might ask you for a million pound.

Beware when you are on the World Wide Web,
It is no less than the spider's web.
Once you're stuck you can't get out.
Always keep safe without any doubt.
Never leak your data to any unknown.
They always have an eye on your phone

THE EYES KNOW IT ALL

Creativity -Senior School

I was 9 years old when I
Realised mummy's eyes turned blue
Not when she smiled
But when sorrow was filled in her eyes.

I was a little older when
I found my dad's smile almost
Made his eyes disappear
Oh, I remember when!

My brother's eyes twinkled
When his ribs shook from laughter.
I've not heard that roar
In so forever long!

I know, we've grown now,
But I can't help, miss the way .
My friends' eyes turned big with fear
Waiting for the graded sheets .

The eyes know it all
The pain, the happiness and the sorrow
The laughter, the hurt and the anger
Just as we go about life.

The windows to the soul, as they are known
They still shine as bright in the old
Even as the edges crinkle and
Oh, I know

Blue, green, hazel or brown
Feline, round or almond shaped
Even when they are fully amped
After all, the eyes know it all.

MY HOPE, MY TEACHER

Teachers proudly stand in front of the class
With knowledge and influence en-masse,
Igniting a flame in curious minds
Proficiently as the lessons unwind.

Teaching, a calling that burns deep inside
To instruct thirsty, inquisitive minds.
Installing passion that leads to success.
Inspiring pupils to give of their best.

Encouraging scholars' creative gifts,
Praising, applauding whatever it is.
Those who are taught well live well, get ahead.
Blessed are the teachers, it has to be said.

It doesn't go unnoticed, the work involved
Developing great people to evolve.
All humble, nurturing teachers out there,
Thank you all for your compassionate care.

Those who go on to find their hopes and dreams,
Remember the teachers who cast the beams.

CONSTRUCTIVISM IN CLASS MANAGEMENT

A remarkable quote by Benjamin Franklin -

“ Tell me and I forget. Teach me and I remember. Involve me and I learn.....”

With the blessings of our Chairperson ,we at Amity believe that technology in education needs to be embraced by educators to revolutionize their classrooms and to retain their relevance in a world where Computational Learning is recognized. As we sail through the 21st century, use of technology is becoming more and more predominant in the teaching learning process. By embracing and integrating technology while teaching, we are setting our students up for a successful life outside of school.

A workshop on 'Constructivism in Class Management by Mrs. Art Chopra ma'am' was organized to enhance and revive the teachers' knowledge to handle tools of technology in online teaching. The session was an enriching experience as an introduction to a plethora of online tools and activities designed for the teachers to incorporate in the teaching learning process. Various platforms were suggested to connect to students for Synchronous and Asynchronous learning. Some of the remarkable tools that were practiced hands on by the teachers in the session are peardeck, whiteboard.in, flipgrid, padlet, answer garden, nearpod, wordwall, quizizz, adobe spark, aggie.io to name a few. Plan of the day, learning outcomes, classroom norms and teacher on chat duty was also defined and suggested.

The main concept I explored today was:
