MY PARENTS ARE THE LIGHT OF MY LIFE

Creativity -Junior School

My parents are the light of my life,
They tell me what to do right.
My mother makes me study,
But she also makes me play with my buddies.
My father is very funny,
And works hard to earn the money.
My parents are for me, an essential tool,
They are the family's fuel.
My parents are the stars of my life,
Twinkling nice and bright.

IF ANIMALS COULD SPEAK

I love animals. Often, I wonder what if they had a language like ours. If they could speak like humans speak. Of course, animals do communicate with each other, but in their own way. Imagine if they would speak to us in our language, what would they say? They would exclaim in joy when we give them good food, good shelter and lots of hugs and when we would protect them and take care of them. They would say, 'Thank you'! They would express their love in words, and we would become friends in a matter of seconds. We could have lots of pets easily and we would talk for hours. If animals could speak like us, they would also share their problems with us and we would find a way out for them. They would tell us when they were hungry, thirsty or cold. If they would fall ill, we would take them to a veterinary doctor. We would help them quickly and not let them suffer much. Even though animals do not speak like us, we can still understand them and they can also understand how we treat them. God has given us this ability to feel each other and it is one of the most beautiful things in the world.

WHO GAVE ME LIFE

Like a seed I was born
Like a plant I grew up
She gave me care and love
And made me free like a dove
Who is she? She is my mother

Love was the water
Care was the sunlight she gave to me
Who is she? She is my mother
She sacrificed a lot for me ,
To make me comfortable
And my life easy
Who is she? She is my mother

Now, when I grew up
It's time for me to care and love her because
Who is she? She is my mother

I love to take care and share
What all I took from her, the respect and values she gave me as she is
My MOTHER .

SOLITUDE MY FRIEND

Hello solitude, my old friend
I have come to talk to you again
Because corona is softly creeping
Left its seeds while the world was sleeping
And when the world woke up insane
We were left alone with our pain

Hello solitude do you know?
Corona like a cancer grows
Although we all are suffering
The sound of silence is now deafening
But with you always by my side
Give me hope that everything will be alright

As you say, "hear my words that I might teach you
Take my arms that I might reach you."
And as people we bow and pray
To our God night and day
You hold my hand to show me the way
That future might be bright someday

AUTUMN'S BEAUTY

Leaves are falling
Yellow, Orange and Green
The colours of autumn
Can now be seen

This green rain of trees
Enveloping our beloved Earth
Providing Mother Nature
With the greatest of mirth.

Damp is the weather,
Sky is cloudless.
Squirrels collecting nuts
Are making progress.
Exploring hill stations

Everyone is enjoying vacation
People all around
Appreciating God's creation.

Spring is bountiful
But autumn is even more
It paves the way for earth
To freshen up to core.

HOPE TO LIVE

Creativity - Senior School

You dreamt too much or your ambitions were too high
Society cut off your wings deprived you of even the basic right to fly
You sit in despair, in the corner of your room
Trying to figure out, what went wrong and why?
Society has been evil to many,
Many were let down
Their dreams were crushed and so couldn't gather the strength to again wake up.
They let their fear control them but here's where you can change
Fight like a warrior, fight for your dreams
Because you can't let your hard work go in vain.
Break the shackles, break the stigma
Use the pain that society has given you as the fuel to fly
Seeing your success, the society as always will turn a blind eye
As now you have got the chance,
To live a life free as a bird
Soaring with success high into the sky

LIFE EXPLAINED BY A $20 BILL

A well-known speaker started off his seminar by holding up a $20 bill. In a room of 200, he asked, "who all would like to have this $20 note?", hands went up immediately. He continued, "I'll give this to any one of you, but, let me do this...", he crumbled the note in his hand, and repeated the question. Still hands were up. He chuckled, "Ok, then what if I do this...", he threw the note on the ground and stepped hard on it, making it dirty and repugnant. "Now, who wants it?", he repeated, but, this time in a more emphasized tone. Hands were up but, this time a few only. He explained, "My friends, we all have learned a very valuable lesson. No matter what I did to the note, some of you still wanted it as its value didn't depreciated, it still holds a worth of $20. Similarly, sometimes in our live we are dropped or crumpled on the ground, and we feel worthless. But, in reality, our life doesn't lose its value by the actions of others, but, its value surly depends upon what WE do to ourselves."

SAYALI CHOPRA (CLASS 10 I)

TRIALS OF APOLLO

Trials of Apollo is yet another fabric of thrillers weaved by the Myth Master, Rick Riordan. It is the succeeding series of Percy Jackson after The Heroes of Olympus. In this quintet of books with its last one to be released this autumn, Apollo, a former Greek god is cast out of his godly home Olympus and plunged to earth to face his trials. Weak and abysmal as a sixteen year old teenager, instead of a vogue four-thousand-year-old deity, Apollo must go on dangerous quests to regain his favour as a God. While he's at it, he self reflects and realises his faults as a former god (trust me...there were many!). But that doesn't help him face his enemies (these too, are many!). For this, he needs help from modern demigods, both Greek and Roman. Any teenage reader would enjoy this series with its perfect blend of mythology with modern teenage humour, love and of course thrill and ferocity.

It has been a great honor and privilege to be a part of this esteemed institution; the knowledge and the memories we gained here will always be in our hearts. Amikriti has become an excellent platform to express our memories and gratitude towards our School, Chairperson ma'am, Principal ma'am and our beloved teachers. Being our last year in school, Amikriti made it all the more special. We all have a bright future in front of us thanks to the wholesome education that has been provided to us through various societies such as Amikriti. Three cheers to everyone who have put in their hard work and efforts into making this newsletter as special as it is!
